

UNDERSTANDING EVALUATION

This workshop

What is evaluation? What does quality evaluation produce? Are just two of the questions this workshop focusses on? In the past we assessed, audited and performance appraised but evaluation is today increasingly being used due to the value it can add to people and organisations who wish to assess value. Evaluation is a research methodology that can help us to gain a more accurate picture of whatever we apply this methodology to and where to go next. A key outcome of quality evaluation is not just a list of what is wrong and needs improved but also what is of value and a strength. In this interactive workshop a range of evaluation methods will be reviewed and practiced alongside criteria about what quality evaluations produce. The professional level capacity to provide feedback and feed forward is also examined and practiced to further support effective evaluation practices in the workplace. All participants are invited to bring along evaluation challenges and questions they face for discussion at the workshop. A resource book will be supplied which will provide a range of supportive
